Per our conversation on 13 February 1987, attached are copies of trade bills in which you may be interested. Please forward them to anyone else who may be interested. Note that, in view of the Administration's expressed desire to send its own omnibus trade bill to Congress on 19 February 1987, the House has not yet decided whether to mark up H.R. 3 which is last year's bill or to begin anew.

The Senate has introduced its own omnibus trade bill, S. 490, which differs significantly from H.R. 3.

1. On 5 February 1987, we received a copy of the above-captioned document for review and comment by 6 February 1987. I distributed it to the Technology Transfer Assessment Center/DI and to Intelligence Community Affairs/OGC. Both offices informed me that we have no problems with the proposed amendments and that it is good from our perspective.

2. Accordingly, on 6 February 1987, I telephoned the Office of Management and Budget and stated that we have no objections to the proposed amendments.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Technology Transfer Assessment Center/DI
Chief, Intelligence Community Affairs/OGC

FROM: Legislation Division
Office of Congressional Affairs

SUBJECT: Amendments to the Export Administration Act of 1979

STAT

1. Attached for your information and comment is a copy of a draft bill to amend the Export Administration Act of 1979, along with an analysis of each section of the proposed amendment. This bill will be included with others in legislation designed to make the United States more competitive in the international markets.

2. Several sections of the bill are particularly noteworthy. Section 1 allows the People's Republic of China to obtain validated licenses authorizing multiple exports. Section 4 allows export of a U.S. product or technology to a free world country without restriction when a similar product or technology is available to that country from other sources. It is necessary to show an unacceptable risk of diversion to a controlled country in order to deny a license application with respect to national security-based controls. Section 5 permits the removal of items from the International Control List in certain instances when agreements to restrict the export of those items are not reached.

3. By letter dated 4 February 1987, the Office of Management and Budget asked for our response by close of business 6 February 1987. I request that you review the attached material and contact me on as soon as possible in order that we may comply with the deadline.
